Issue No. 27

April/May 2015

Editorial by Sarah

I was reading an article the other day about people doing random acts of kindness. This got me thinking, do you really need to go and establish an orphanage to qualify, surely not? Also, do these acts have to involve money, I don't think so.

What about if you just said good morning to someone in the street, would that perk them up and so they would pass the greeting on. I don't think you have to join the Samaritans to show that you have compassion in your heart, just one small act could make all the difference to someone's self worth. Likewise, you don't have to give your job up and go and live in a rain forest to make a difference to the planet. If we all just picked up a couple of pieces of litter, how much would that add up to!

Someone stopped me in the car park at Widemouth and said "Have you got change of a £1 for car parking as it's only 50p all day", "No" I said "but I have got 50p, here you go". That only cost 50p but I can tell you, they were well impressed.

I understand that some people commit their whole lives to selfless acts, but if we all did one small deed a day, imagine what a difference that would make. So, next time you see an opportunity, grab it it will give you a warm fuzzy feeling all day, and if you do believe in the pearly gates imagine the brownie points!! Sarah

Summary of Meeting held on 24th March, 2015

Cllr. Norman Osborne chaired the monthly meeting of the Parish Council which began with the Annual Parish Meeting. There were three Speakers who all gave very interesting talks.

Mrs Judy Pride from Little Harbour Children's Hospice (SW) spoke on their work. The care they offer to families is wide ranging from respite and short breaks, emergency care, palliative care and end of life care. Each hospice is a home-from-home environment allowing children and families space to forget their worries for a while, be together as a family and find expert help and support in facing an uncertain future.

Mrs Russell, head of Jacobstow School gave a report on the school stating that in January they had their long awaited OFSTED inspection the outcome of which was that the school was a good school in all areas.

Col. Nicky Chopak gave a report on her year's County Council work, the roads being an ongoing problem with patching and pot holes.

This was followed with a short Council Meeting.

Correspondence was received from the Post Office regarding the changes to St. Gennys Post Office. The new-look Post Office is scheduled to open at the current location on Thursday 16th April at 1300. (It will need to close on 13th April at 17.30 for refurbishment.) The opening up of Kents Lane was discussed and it was decided to discuss it next month and organize a site meeting.

The raffle was held. £166 was made for the Jacobstow Church

SIMNEL CAKE

Dr Chambers says in his "Book of Days" circa 1860 that, "It is an old custom in Shropshire and Herefordshire, and especially at Shrewsbury, to make during Lent and Easter, and also at Christmas, rich and expensive cakes, which are called Simnel Cakes. They are raised cakes, the crust of which is made of fine flour and water with sufficient saffron to give it a deep yellow colour, and the interior filled with the materials of a very rich plum cake, with plenty of candied lemon-peel and other good things. They are tied up in a cloth and boiled for several hours, after which they are brushed with egg, and then baked. When ready for sale, the crust is as hard as if made from wood - a circumstance which has given rise to various stories of the manner in which they have at times been treated by persons to whom they were sent as presents and who had never seen one before: one ordering it to be boiled to soften it and a lady using it as a foot-stool."

Historically they were made by female servants to give to their mothers on their day off, Mothering Sunday (4th Sunday in Lent).

These days a rich fruit cake recipe is used, then topped with marzipan when cool. The marzipan can be used decoratively before being grilled to an amber colour. The decorations should symbolise the Easter story with eleven balls referring to the eleven disciples, not Judas who hanged himself. The larger ball in the middle would signify Jesus Christ. The plait in this one is the Crown of Thorns.

Bob's Gardening Spot

Daffodils which have flowered should be finished, so nip off the spent flower heads but leave the foliage to die down, but experts say you can cut down the foliage after six weeks of the finished flowering. You should be planting summer flowering bulbs, Dahlias, Cannas and Gladioli this month if you plant them over a few weeks you will get flowers throughout the Summer and into the Autumn.

Keep sowing vegetables little and often to get a steady supply of crops over a longer period. Main crop potatoes should be planted out this month, about two feet between rows and fifteen inches apart. Earth up early potatoes to encourage more spuds on the stems as they grow.

The grass will be growing strongly now, so start to lower the cutter blade and feed with a proper spring feed. Please read the instructions on the box and follow them carefully.

Any shrubs that have finished flowering should be cut back, taking out older wood. Plan to take out about one third of the old wood, down to the ground. Prune Clematis "Montana" once it has finished flowering.

Runner and French beans should be sown now (May) outside, but you can sow them earlier if you have somewhere indoors. If you are growing carrots you can put up a barrier around the plants to prevent the carrot fly ruining your crop. It should be about two feet high around the crop and it can just be a polythene sheet fixed to a wooden frame with an open top.

We have completed the Chocolate "Go-for-It" badge, which included cooking buns and biscuits, designing a chocolate bar wrapper and blind tasting of different types.

A "Go for It" is a patrol badge that the girls have to organise themselves. They are given a choice of different activities on the subject and all have to do 4 weeks of activities.

In the February half-term we returned the hospitality with St Breward Guides visiting us for a sleep over and doing a badge in the time we were together. This was "I'm a Guide Get Me Out of Here" and yes we did have a Bush Tucker Trial of dog food, worms, brains and soil..... which didn't taste too bad!

We have started the new term with 8 girls and are looking forward to the Cook-a-fun badge and competition which is being run by South West Region. After the Division round, we hope that one of the patrols will go forward to the County Round.

In March we did the unit round of the Bolitho Shield, which is the Cornwall Girl Guiding Guide Competition. The girls had to break a code and produce the message it contained, make a pendant, provide the grid references of places in Cornwall containing animals and birds names and finally wrap a box of matches which then was submerged in a bowl of water. Surprisingly the matches did stay dry. The winners were the Panda patrol by one mark and the marking wasn't fixed.

In March we enrolled 4 of the Guides on the beach.

There is good news for Brownies as the Marhamchurch Unit is going to be open once more. If your daughter is interested in Guides (10-14) or Brownies (7-10) please contact me on 01840 230006. We would love to re-open Rainbows and Brownies in Jacobstow, but are in need of new Leaders. I would recommend being a Guider, it is fun and the reward and adventures you can have are wonderful. Come and have a taster session..... Sorry ladies only.

Life In Jacobstow by Rachel Wren

Growing up here I have seen many changes in the area over the years but also many things that have not changed. One of these being the community spirit which has always been very strong here in Jacobstow. I grew up going to Church and being part of the many fundraisers organised in aid of the Church, the Parish Hall and the School. Bingo was a particular favourite and all were very well supported by the local and surrounding areas.

I also attended Jacobstow Primary School as did generations of my family and it is lovely to be able to give my children the chance to have a similar upbringing, as they also now attend Jacobstow School and the Beavers Club at Wainhouse. The school is brilliant and they both really enjoy going. I have no doubt that they will look back at their time there with some really fond memories, as I do.

Beavers gives the children a good start at learning the life skills that they will undoubtedly need in the future as well as making friends, working together and having new experiences which will prepare them for Cubs and Scouts thereafter. We are very lucky to have people who are willing to run the clubs. It is very much appreciated by all parents. I love this area, there are so many beautiful walks and views to enjoy and I couldn't think of a better place to live

Extra Note from The Journal - Rachel very kindly designs all the covers for the Journal - don't know what we would do without her.

W.I. BATON COMES TO JACOBSTOW

At last it's arrived, the long awaited Baton, celebrating 100 years of the W.I, got to Jacobstow on its relay around Cornwall.

It arrived on Saturday 24th February borne by Barbara Corbett, the County Chairman, who joined us at the tractor, ready to follow down the hill to the Parish Hall. The tractor was driven by 19 year old Amy Osborne.

The Baton was presented to Pat Lane, Jacobstow President, and then carried by Sue Dyer, a member of Week St Mary W.I, to the Parish Hall. We had banners from North Tamerton, Week St Mary, North Petherwin, Jacobstow and St Genys W.I.

Afternoon tea was served in bone china cups, the celebration cake was cut, speeches made and many photos taken.

The Baton was then handed over to Carol Sparham, President of Bude W.I in the Central Methodist Hall at 7pm

What a day we had!

Smiling eclipse

An unusual feature of the past two months was persistent high pressure, a feature known as an “Azores” high, which not only was much further to the north than what would be expected in the UK winter, but somewhat dense. I recorded a pressure of 1038Mb on the 7th February, and 1042Mb on the 8th and 17th. Interesting also was the more or less complete lack of any Continental Artic High Pressure Systems, with none of the cold NE winds associated with such. Although a fairly cold period was observed early February, it was of Polar origin, giving frequent wintry showers more than anything else in the south of the country. Most of the deep winter depressions kept well to the north of the country, with only the 14th January giving anything like storm conditions locally.

January rainfall was 6.72 inches collected at Canworthy Water, with February giving 3.73 inches .

I consider the winter to be fairly quiet this year, with only a few cold nights, -3°C being typical in the limited number of frosts recorded.

All very ordinary then, nothing to see here, move along please!

Spare time! What spare time?

Throughout my working life I have been fortunate enough to have jobs that I enjoyed and which kept me busy. I can still remember thinking in the past “What will I do when I retire? I’ll get bored”. Wrong! Having moved first from Middlesex back to my birthplace in Plymouth, I then discovered the delights of North Cornwall and moved to Jacobstow. One day, driving across Davidstow Moor, I came across an airfield and being ex-RAF started to investigate further. It wasn’t long before I found that there was a museum nearby (the Cornwall at War Museum) - and that was it! No more spare time! The museum is privately owned by a couple (Steve & Sheila) from Wadebridge and supported by volunteers who come from all walks of life. Of course quite a few are ex-military but, equally, quite a few are not! The museum is open from Easter until end-October and I have never yet met a visitor who wasn’t impressed. Although it appears small from the outside it is actually the opposite and grows larger year by year. With a total of eighteen buildings it covers Army, Navy and Air Force - and civilian activities as well. Most of the exhibits (of which there are thousands) relate to WW2 but there are also WW1 exhibits and items associated with the Falklands conflict.

Not everything is just about the armed-forces and one of the current projects is the creation of a narrow-gauge railway of the type used to transport goods to the trenches in WW1. This is a fairly long-term project and will take some time to complete, although a reasonable amount of track has already been laid and a diesel engine and rolling stock are already on site.

The work undertaken by the volunteers is extremely varied and includes constructing new buildings, designing and creating new displays, brickwork, woodwork, metalwork and painting, building maintenance, sound and video systems, photography, cleaning, research and anything else you can think of! Some of the work (for safety reasons) can only be undertaken when the museum is closed but during the open period some of the volunteers are also heavily involved with visitors. Not only individual visitors but also with the many group visits that we have such as car clubs, WI, historical societies, cadets, scouts and schools. It is true to say that I don’t get bored working there as each week (or even each day) brings something different. Last week we had a phone call from a Harbour Master in West Cornwall to say that a trawler had “fished up” a large gun and would we like it? Of course we would! It was collected and brought back to the museum for restoration and research as to what it was and when it ended up at the bottom of the sea. They are a friendly crowd to work with and being there has certainly stopped me from being bored. If you think you might also be interested in working there then why not phone me (01840-230113) to find out more or have a look at the museum website www.cornwallatwarmuseum.co.uk

How to Decorate Real Eggs.

PREPARATION.

EASY WAY: Hard boil for 15 minutes with 2 teaspoons of vinegar in the water. If you choose to decorate a hard boiled egg, this will keep for no more than 2 weeks and is best stored at night in the fridge. Good for competitions, you can always take a photo of your egg.

MORE CHALLENGE: Blow the egg: use a raw egg, wipe clean. Shake for 5 minutes to loosen insides. Pierce top and bottom with a pin, gently wiggle pin to open hole a bit. Wipe clean, then blow over a bowl or sink. Wash gently in soapy water. Dry.

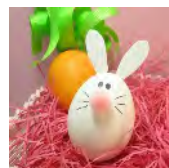

DECORATING. Either paint or colour with felt pens or add stickers etc.

USE FOOD COLOURING. Half fill 2 cups with hot water and 4 drops of colouring & 2 teaspoons vinegar. Place eggs in this for 2 minutes. TO STENCIL: Stick stickers on dry egg. Then immerse in red dye. Dry. Peel off stickers and then immerse in turquoise (2 drops green, 2 blue)

JACOBSTOW WALKING GROUP by Celia Proudfoot

On Thursday 5th February we met at Jacobstow Parish Hall at 10am. The walk was well attended with four new walkers and Chester the black labrador joining in, although staunch supporters Ann and Steve were unable to go.

We walked down the road and took the first footpath on the left after the church, heading towards Jacobstow Holywell. Almost immediately we came to one of several kissing gates which were installed at the start of the Millennium. Each gate has a plaque with words of love inscribed on it. One of the quotes is from Shakespeare, another is in Cornish. Others are more general. The one shown here is inscribed

“A kiss is something you cannot give without taking and cannot take without giving” Our guide Mary was responsible for researching and organising the making of the plaques and their content and her partner fixed them to the gates.

As we headed across fields to the Holy Well, Mary pointed out the spot known as “Witchy Pool” where witches were plunged into the pool as punishment for their crimes. Duckpool near Bude was also used for this purpose. There was I like many a visitor to Cornwall innocently thinking what a lovely name Duckpool was and how it was most probably associated to lovely ducks. We then walked on to the Holy Well, passing ancient oak trees. The Holy Well is set on ley lines and is the reason for the village of Jacobstow being built. It is another area that has been restored. The primroses and snowdrops were out. Although the paths were muddy the weather was kind. The 2nd walk on Thursday 5th March was from St Gennys church across the cliff tops and down to Crackington in glorious sunshine. The next walk will be on Thursday 9th April meeting Jacobstow Hall and the May 7th walk will start at Jacobstow Hall sharing cars from there. Both starting at 10am.

INTERESTING THINGS ABOUT JACOBSTOW

Penhallam

Probably the oldest part of the current Jacobstow Parish is Penhallam (in the north of the parish) as this is mentioned

(as Penhalun) in the Doomesday Book. Within this vicinity was a 13th century moated manor house (Penhallam Manor House) built by Andrew de Cardinham. Moated manor houses are found mainly in central and eastern England, but are rare in the south-west so Penhallam is therefore particularly unusual. Having been abandoned in the 14th century, its full medieval ground plan has survived unaltered by later building work but all that remains now are low, grass-covered ruins. Further details can be obtained from English Heritage who administer this site.

Clearing a Blocked Lane at Hele Barton Farm

By Anne Connolly

On Wednesday 11th March we joined the small but elite footpath clearing team at Hele Barton Farm, in order to help clear a totally overgrown sunken lane.

The team (Mary Carter and Tom) had already been there for 2 hours, working hard. Initially we couldn't see where they were, until a hidden voice shouted out from beneath the undergrowth. We then saw what can only be described as a challenging scene; thick brambles and gorse totally blocking the footpath along its length, with 6 inches of water and mud at the bottom. Sadly, Steve had worn Crocs, through which the deep mud and water instantly squeezed and he manfully carried on until Tom found some spare wellies and so trenchfoot was avoided! We only spent 2 hours helping and it was fun but hard work. After we left, Mary continued for another 3 hours, until the whole track had been cleared. How she managed to keep going for a full day, we don't know! Thank you Mary!

Bude Guided Geological Walks

2-hour guided walks by Dr Roger Higgs, DPhil on Bude Formation rocks. 5-star TripAdvisor reviews. "An excellent, thought provoking tour. Roger is very friendly and imparts his enthusiasm for geology on you. A great way to spend 2 hours and learn something about the world around you." Enjoy the geology along this sector of the glorious South West Coast Path. Sand and mud layers deposited in a giant tropical "Lake Bude" 300 million years ago were folded due to Britain and France colliding, forming a Cornish mountain range, before dinosaurs existed.

Bude Geological Walks are offered all year on Wednesdays (2pm) and Sundays (11am), starting from Bude Tourist Information Centre. £15 adults (16 and older); £8 children (7-15). Advance booking required. Please enquire at the Bude TIC office, or by phone or email. Telephone payment accepted. Sorry, no dogs are allowed and children must be at least 7 years old. Private walks at other times can be arranged for 1-25 people
