Editorial by Sarah

Tony Newton stopped me a while ago on one of his regular walks up the road with Julie and Dougal the dog. He had taken a lovely photo looking down towards the church and wanted to know if we could use it in the Journal. He suggested starting a 'Jacobstow in Bloom' feature in the Journal. Tony emailed the photo through to us (jacobstowjournal@gmail.com) and I instantly thought "That's got cover page written all over it." Bit of a double win too, as Rachel Wren who normally does our much complimented covers was just starting school holidays and would probably appreciate a break, which she did!

Anyhow, the point of my editorial, yes, it really has got one, is that it is so rewarding to see pride being taken in our village. You have everything from the amazing flower beds up at Wainhouse Corner, which have grown and become even more of a feature, as well as the wonderful new bench outside the village hall to commemorate World War 1, to the kind person who throws a bag of gravel by the side of the dog bin at Cory Close, so making access so much easier. When there is so much in the news about communities struggling with all the modern problems of drugs, knife crime, bullying and crime, it's so reassuring to know that our little corner still has that amazing community spirit and we all still care about where we live. It would be brilliant if we could grow this even further, keeping on top of the litter, supporting village activities, fundraising and just being good neighbours and villagers. Well done everyone, you are all a credit to each other.

We have had some good news where a partnership solution will see overnight services return to Stratton Hospital in August 2019. This Community Treatment Centre will be run by staff from Kernow Health CIC which provides the county's urgent care service- NHS Cornwall 111. Meanwhile in Launceston, ground has been broken on the new expansion to Launceston Medical Centre, another project which I was very proud to have been involved with over the last few years. It has taken a lot of time and effort to get there but I would like to thank NHS England and Launceston Medical Centre Patient Group for their work on this. It really does show you that a grass roots campaign for better services does pay off.

Jacobstow Neighbourhood Watch

As we all enjoy the lovely summer weather, it is always worth remembering to be more aware of security risks. Windows and doors are more likely to be open, so make sure they are all secure before you go out. Closing curtains to keep the house cool also may block the view of people approaching your property and would also give the impression that the house is empty. If you are going away you could ask a neighbour to keep an eye on the house, maybe leave a key with them so that they can collect post from the doormat. Also, it might be a good idea to ask them to park their car on your drive from time to time. A timer switch on a centrally located lamp will give the impression of someone being at home.

Any urgent information will be posted on the jacobstow village facebook page, don't worry if you do not use Facebook, go to the jacobstow village web page and follow the link from there

NEW BENCH FOR THE PARISH HALL

The bench is one of four benches to commemorate World War 1. The other three are in North Tamerton, Marhamchurch and Week St Mary. They have been funded by the community chest grant of £650+£265 from the Parish Council. In the photo are councillors Norman Osborne, Nicky Chopak and Doreen Turner.

Exciting News About the Parish Hall

The trustees of Jacobstow Parish Hall are really pleased to have been awarded £10,000 from the National Lottery Community Fund for much needed works to be done on the exterior of the hall. Many thanks to everyone involved. The work is hopefully going to commence at the end of August / beginning of September. We hope that everyone will be vigilant around the hall when works are carried out as there will be scaffolding and busy workers carrying out the repairs; we hope this causes no inconvenience to any of you. The work includes re-pointing the S/W gable end and porch, repairing and pointing the N/E wall and windows as required, removing the broken and loose stone of the inner wall of the boiler room, replace and make good the wall. Replace and paint the badly rotten barge boards on the S/W gable end. We will keep you posted on dates and will be taking regular photographs of works in progress. The builder is to be Brett Garvie. We are not sure if the hall will need to be closed at this stage but all will be notified nearer the time if so.

Please be patient with us whilst the work is carried out and hopefully the hall will be in good repair and used to its full potential for a long time in the future. Thank you to the parish council also, for supporting us in this venture and helping with funding.

There will be a notice in the next Journal, so keep your eyes peeled, regarding the annual citizens Christmas lunch, which will be held on Tuesday 3rd December this year.

Bob's Gardening Spot.

August is the time to plan your projects for next year. Try to pick your best vegetables to get a tasty crop. Give your lawn a good overhaul. Mine is on clay so I have to try and fork it over to improve the drainage. Top dress with grit and feed and brush it in with a stiff broom.

You should get any shrubs or trees planted by the end of September so they can become settled before it gets too cold. Take cuttings from any of your favourite plants in case you lose the original one when the nights start to get chilly. You can use custard powder instead of rooting powder; it does exactly the same job. If you want potatoes for Christmas dinner, buy first early tubers and plant them in deep bags of compost. Keep them in the greenhouse to avoid blight. Most importantly, take time to enjoy your garden, maybe with a little G&T! HAPPY GARDENING, BOB

JACOBSTOW BOOK CLUB

The members of the group finished and enjoyed both the books we had this month:

"The Salt Path" by Raynor Winn is based on real events and began by being quite depressing as Ray and her husband lose their home and their livelihood and Moth, the husband, is diagnosed with a terminal illness. They decide to complete the 630 miles of the SW Cornish coastal path, wild camping and living on very little money. The journey is harsh, as they battle with the effects of Moth's illness, extreme weather and people's attitudes to homelessness but the story is very uplifting and you will recognise many of the places that they visit on the way.

"When Will There be Good News?" by Kate Atkinson is a gripping story with many twists and turns, mistakes and coincidences. In rural Devon, six-year-old Joanna Mason witnessed and escaped from a brutal attack on her family. Thirty years later the murderer is released from prison and, in Edinburgh, Dr Joanna Hunter has gone missing, with her baby, and only Reggie, her 16 year old nanny, seems to be worried. Eventually she convinces Detective Louise Monroe that something is wrong and, with the help of Jackson Brodie, a former cop and private detective, start to take action. It is sad, at times distressing but also darkly humorous.

For the summer term we have been very busy enjoying being outside as much as possible. We have been experimenting to see whether there is any difference between fires when they are built in different shapes, cooking on fire (that evening ended in rain), practising pitching tents, making dens (again in the rain), having fun on the beach and walking Rough Tor. We've also been joined by several new members, so have had promise ceremonies on the beach and up on Rough Tor.

Could I just ask if the people who keep parking on the corner by Rob Reason's place (Penhallam Cottage) and Win Smith's place (second bend coming down from Wainhouse Corner) could not do so, especially between 8.30 and 9.30am and 2.30 and 3.30pm. It's really dangerous! So many times I have had someone nearly hit me because they are having to come around a car on blind bends. It's really bad and if anyone was walking I dread to think what could happen. We sometimes walk to school and kids bike down sometimes. I would be very happy if the parking were to stop.

Dear members of Jacobstow Community,

We have discovered that we have been visited regularly over the last few weeks by dogs who have left their mess on the school field. This is obviously a serious health hazard for young children.

Please could we ask that owners monitor their dogs properly and don't use the school grounds for walks. And also, that those who use the field for recreation purposes, out of school hours, make sure they shut the gates behind them so that any stray or unsupervised dogs don't find it so easy to get in.

Many thanks. Sue Russell

WEATHERWISE by Monitor

May this year was quite dry by recent standards, with only 0.96" collected here at Canworthy Water. The long -term average is around 3" locally, with the past three years being around 1.75," however. No weather was really of any note, a couple of thunderstorms were observed on the 8th and 10th, with a heavy downpour on the 8th. This was the only really wet day, giving 0.5" by then end of the period. The 15th gave the warmest day, 22.4°C by early afternoon. May seems to be getting more reliable of late.

The main story of June were the extensive rain periods, with 20 wet days of some description up to the 23rd. A total of 4.15" was collected. Of interest, the Met Office official wettest June to-date was in 2012, at 5.9," but here only 0.9" was collected that year.

East of the area quite severe weather was noted, with torrential rain around Launceston on the 7th and some fairly heavy rain here. Warmest days were the 23rd at 23.6°C, and the 28th at 26.6°C.

The extensive rainfall observed in the east of the country was the result of a low getting stuck over the North Sea with warm and humid air being drawn off the continent. This mixed with much colder air aloft from the north which is a sure-fire set-up to get thunderstorms everywhere. Some of the rain events were indeed notable.

WHY MY SON DID THE IRON MAN TRIATHLON

I have lived in the parish of Jacobstow for 34 years and my son Matthew (now 31) was born here. He went to Budehaven School and amongst his close friends was a young man called Jamie Osborne. 2 years ago Jamie died from a heart attack whilst out for a run. He was only 28 years old. He appeared to be young, fit, slim and healthy. He loved sport. He left behind a fiancée and a young baby, not to mention a close supportive family. My son Matthew, and Jamie's young friends were devastated but also determined to be pro-active, as were Jamie's family. Matt and his friends got themselves tested for heart conditions, fearing this could happen to them. An organisation called CRY (cardiac risk in the young) recognises this as a problem that is still not fully recognised, despite hundreds of young people dying suddenly every year from cardiac conditions which could be identified through screening with an ECG. My son decided to start training for the Iron Man Triathlon to raise funds for Jamie's charity, Jay's AIM. On 16th June this year he did the triathlon in the Lake District. It started with 2.4 miles of swimming (wearing a triathlon wetsuit) in Lake Keswick at 6am. Matt had spent 2 years taking swimming lessons from a friend to improve his technique to save energy. The event has a swim safety crew and all the aid stations, medals and nutrition are supplied on the day with the costs being covered by the entry fees. There are transition zones set up with the contestants' race number on coloured bags with their bike and run gear. Matt completed the swim easily and moved on to the bike ride (112 miles) The bike is the time when you can eat. Eating whilst running makes you sick so it's just energy drinks here. Matt's fiancée made him loads of mini pasties to eat on the bike ride (he's a good Cornish boy!) Finally the run - A MARATHON! (26 miles.) Matt completed the course saying it was the hardest thing he'd ever done. He raised almost £800 for Jay's AIM. Sainsbury's in Bude raised approx £2,500. If you want to donate, go https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/Matthew-Proudfoot4?utm_source=whatsapp or go to Jay's AIM.

June is always a busy month for the WI with the Royal Cornwall Show to start things off. For this centenary year the competition theme was "Iconic Cornwall" and we hope you like our entry.

The weather was reasonably kind for the show but on the day we started our 100 mile Centenary Walk, it was raining hard! Dressed for the worst, 3 hardy walkers set off from The Crescent, arriving at The Weir, still dry, where we met another brave member and after coffee we returned along the canal, miraculously still dry. With the sky looking darker, we decided to add to our mileage with another day!

Our visit to Pencarrow also started wet but was dry when we arrival and we had a fascinating tour of the house, learning about its history and artefacts. Finishing off with a lovely cream tea, it was a great way to spend an afternoon.

In July, our meeting began with an interesting talk about button making and the history of buttons by Caroline Cudmore who runs a unique specialist button covering company. Buttons have been made from a vast range of materials for thousands of years for decorative and practical uses and there is even a national Button Society.

We don't have a regular meeting in August but do come along to our meeting on 12th September when we'll be hearing all about Rodda's Creamery!

JACOBSTOW WALKING GROUP

It was a lovely Spring day - the sun was shining etc etc. Perfect for a walk up Ludon Valley, listening to the stream gurgling along below us.

We were interested in the ruins and thought it was a way of harnessing the power of water.

At the top of the hill we were soon on the coast path and admiring the sea and cliffs stretching behind and ahead of us.

It turned out to be a longer walk than usual but still thoroughly enjoyable.

These were retrospective photos and the weather wasn't as clear.

Summer Holidays - What shall we do?

Our Cornish summers can be really sunny or really wet. Here are 2 things you could do for sunny days and wet days.

Sunny days: Make a daisy chain.

Pick the daisies with the longest, thickest stalks.

Use your thumbnail to make a hole in the stalk, halfway down.

Thread a different daisy through this hole. Repeat on a new daisy until you have the chain length you want.

Wet days: Set up a snail race.

Decide on your start and finish line, find some willing contestants, and then let them loose. Yes, cheering them may take a while... but that's what makes it so brilliant when they reach the finish line.

Don't forget: Keep snails moist, don't let them dry out and get hot.

After the race, put the snails gently back where you found them - they'll need a rest after all that exercise.

LAUNCESTON STEAM RAILWAY

This little train (Darjeeling Himalayan Railway No19) has come all the way from the India. She was built in Glasgow in 1889 and worked there until 1960. She originally had a crew of 5, 1 of which had to drizzle sand on the rails to prevent slippage! Then went to USA in a private collection, then to Indiana. After a serious fire and re-build she was brought back to the UK.

She is now slaving away on the Launceston Steam Railway. Rides are at 1 and 2pm on Wednesdays and Thursdays in August. On 15 and 16 there will be a special gala with the Dajeeling Society.

Curries are available on the days she runs.

Jacobstow Arts & Crafts Group

In this wonderful summer sketching weather we are not really thinking of dark Autumn and Winter afternoons. Yet it will soon be here again and every other Tuesday through Autumn and Winter the Jacobstow Art and Craft Group meet at the Parish Hall to work on our own projects, share ideas and generally enjoy ourselves. We are an open group and love to welcome new members.

This year we hope to make some note-books or drawing journals from scratch! We will have a session of paper making then try our skills at making marbled book inserts and after all that we will work at assembling booklets. We also plan to do some felt making and hope to welcome Brian Littlejohn again. Brian is a local watercolourist who has been giving us a series of demonstration on the art of water colour.

So that is just a taste of some of the ways we spend these afternoons. We are all amateurs and each brings their own enthusiasm and skill. We also like to enjoy the occasional social spree. The picture shows the lovely tea party in early June where we all shared food which we brought with us and enjoyed the hospitality of our member Hilary Workman and her husband Roy. Unfortunately this was not one of the sunniest days, but the food looked good enough to paint!

!Here are the dates of our meetings: September 24th, October 8th & 22nd, November 5th, 19th & 26th and Christmas celebration on December 10th. We meet at the Parish Hall starting at 2.00pm and the fee is £20 for six sessions or £5 for single sessions for guests.

Please contact Jeanne Tel: 07706 972197 for more information

Bridgerule Mill Open Day was another sunny day. It was well attended with lots of interesting side shows. Morris men, plant sales, choral choir and the restored mill and mill pond.

This was their interesting wood pile. It reminded me of the catacombs in Paris where bones of skeletons were used to make pathways.

NEW ROAD SAFETY SIGNS

Thanks to Caroline Pallett for organising two new reduce speed signs at this very dangerous bend on the road from Eden Chapel to Wainhouse. Hopefully they will have a positive effect.

A HISTORY OF JACOBSTOW SCHOOL - Part 6 by Celia Proudfoot

- BETWEEN WARS

The period between the two World Wars brought many changes of method and attitude to Jacobstow School. Attendance improved and teaching methods gradually changed. The teacher became a less severe figure as the work took on a more varied and less formal nature.

School visits started and concerts became a regular feature. Emily Wilson took on the role of Head for a year after Mr St Paer retired. Music has become a tradition at the school and it was Maud Lott who was responsible for this, launching the school on a series of concerts during her 8 year stay, the proceeds of which were used for the first time to benefit the school. A decent piano was bought in 1923 for £5, followed by a sewing machine.

She began a series of educational visits, which before the days of cars and television for all must have widened many a child's view of the world. In 1924 she took them to Wembley and later to Plymouth to see the seaplanes.

After two years with a Supply Head, Mr Coon became Head in 1936 and completed the period between the two wars. He continued the school's musical activities with gusto. He put up half the cost of a new piano with his own money as funds raised were not enough.

The Christmas before the outbreak of World War 2 was celebrated in a relaxed and friendly style with a party being held where each child received a gift from the Christmas tree. It was the last Christmas of Peacetime. An era of transition was over.
