Will they?, Won't they?, I am sure you have all faced this quandary whilst driving to Bude. Fine if you are heading for the town centre, just pop down Kings Hill Road, BUT if you are wanting Morrisons or, heaven forbid, Pedbode Vets,

(where I have spent so much time lately with a dog with a poorly eye that they should name a new wing after her!), ARE THE TRAFFIC LIGHTS GOING TO BE THERE!!!

I was tickled over Christmas to see the working skeletons on the fences, they started off on Facebook and eventually ended up on Spotlight. But, in all seriousness, as I understand it, the roundabout was part of the planning restrictions placed on Bevis whilst building the new estate. So, Bevis's fault then...noooo apparently they paid the money for the roundabout to the council who then dragged their heels in getting on with the work. The official line is that a lot of different utilities had to get their ducks in a line, which is why its taking so long. All I know is, I sat there for 15 minutes the other morning and saw one skeleton, ooops sorry workman move one sign in that whole time!!

Avian Bird Flu - advice from the Government web site

Risks to public health are very low and avian flu does not pose a food safety risk for UK consumers. We have taken several actions to reduce the risks and help protect poultry and captive birds from avian flu.

If you keep poultry – whether on a commercial scale or simply a small backyard flock – you are now required by law to house them (keep them under cover) or otherwise keep them separate from wild birds. This requirement (the Prevention Zone) has now been extended until 28 February 2017. We have also banned gatherings of poultry across the UK.

All poultry keepers must continue to keep a close watch on the health of their birds, and take steps to reduce the risk of infection via the environment, for example in wild bird droppings, by practicing good biosecurity. You should do this even if your birds are inside.

Members of the public are encouraged to report dead wild waterfowl (swans, geese or ducks), or other dead wild birds such as gulls or birds of prey, to the Defra helpline on 03459 33 55 77. Defra will then collect some of these birds and test them to help us understand how the disease is distributed geographically and in different types of bird.

Jacobstow Neighbourhood Watch

Action Fraud has received several reports from victims who have been sent convincing looking emails claiming to be from Amazon. The spoofed emails from “service@amazon.co.uk” claim recipients have made an order online and mimic an automatic customer email notification. The scam email claims recipients have ordered an expensive vintage chandelier. Other reported examples include: Bose stereos, iPhones and luxury watches. The emails cleverly state that if recipients haven’t authorised the transaction they can click on the help centre link to receive a full refund. The link leads to an authentic-looking website, which asks victims to confirm their name, address, and bank card information.

Amazon says that suspicious e-mails will often contain:

Links to websites that look like Amazon.co.uk, but aren't Amazon.co.uk.

Attachments or prompts to install software on your computer.

Typos or grammatical errors.

Forged (or spoofed) e-mail addresses to make it look like the e-mail is coming from Amazon.co.uk. Amazon will never ask for personal information to be supplied by e-mail. You can read more about identifying suspicious emails claiming to be from Amazon by visiting www.devonandcornwall-pcc.gov.uk - police commissioner

Police in Devon and Cornwall have created a new way for the public to contact them in non-emergency situations - by email. There had been concerns about the time it takes for 101 calls to be answered - with the force reporting a 35 per cent increase during the summer. Now, in a bid by the force to reduce the amount of calls they get and improve the "unacceptable" phone service, people are being asked to report crime via email or use the 'contact an officer' facility.

35% Rise in police calls during the summer months

Sandy Brooks, head of the Police Contact Centre said that “many 101 calls are about non-police matters such as fly tipping, stray dogs, noisy neighbours and illegally parked cars which are problems for the council. “

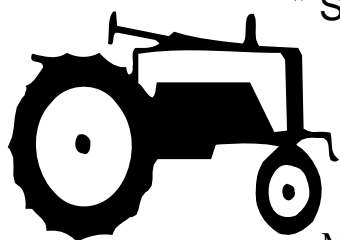

Alison Hernandez Police and Crime commissioner for Devon and Cornwall says - “I'm pleased the police are introducing alternative contact methods for non-urgent matters. I recognise not everyone necessarily wants to call 101 and potentially have to wait several minutes to be dealt with. Choice is important.”

8 minutes - the average wait time for non-urgent matters.

A HISTORY OF JACOBSTOW SCHOOL. PART 1

Imagine making your way to Jacobstow Church to display a handwritten notice which is going to change the way children will be educated. This took place in 1873 and was a direct result of the 1870 Education Act which declared that attendance at school was to be compulsory for all children and to achieve that, all schools would have to be properly and efficiently administered either by Church or State, or both. The notice was put up by the Rev F.T. Batchelor and called for a meeting to be held to find a way of “Providing and maintaining an Efficient School” because the Education Department had decided there was “no efficient school in the Parish of Jacobstow.” This would certainly have upset Betsy Hockaday who in 1833 was recorded to be running an old Dame School which existed at Pear Tree Cottage, supported by subscription in which 10 boys and 12 girls were instructed. An old school was also mentioned in the Vestry Book of 1836 and the Old School, now the Parish Hall was known to be in use in 1868 run by Sylvanus Henry Smith. The schooling at that time was most likely deemed as not being efficient due to low pupil numbers. It fell to the lot of Miss Kate Ford to begin the task of creating an efficient school in the village. Work commenced on a new school building around 1877 which is now a private residence. The school was visited year after year by Her Majesty’s Inspectorate but they only came to pass judgement, never to help or advise. If the school did not pass inspections, they would not get the essential funding needed. The school curriculum focused on “The 3 R’s” as well as being able to recite prayers. Often the teacher had to teach the whole school at a time, all of whom were mixed ages. A log book was kept and contains lists of all songs and poems taught. There were also lessons in Nature Study which included “The Dog” and “A Bird’s Nest.”

CHURCH NEWS

On Sunday 15th January the 'Week St Mary Circle of Churches' held its United Benefice service at Jacobstow Church

This meant that the congregations of all 8 churches came together for a combined service and so the old place was nicely full for once and we followed the service with coffee and cake and the bells were rung to celebrate.

Here at Jacobstow we have a growing team of enthusiastic bell ringers ably lead by our Tower Captain and Church Warden Brian Marshall. If you would like to join them and learn to ring the bells you can contact Mary Carter to talk about it.

Or perhaps you would like to try flower arranging once in a while? The church's list of ladies (or gentlemen) who are willing to help is woefully short. We are not looking for experts, none of us are that, but just people who are willing to stick a few flowers in oasis once every few weeks. If you feel you could help, phone Ruth Fox or Frankie Franklyn for more details.

ST PIRAN'S DAY

March 5th is St Piran's day, the Patron Saint of Cornwall: the day we can celebrate our love of Cornwall, because whilst a lot of us are not lucky enough to be born Cornish, we all hold our lovely county close to our hearts.

There will be a St Piran's Day lunch in the Parish Hall on Saturday 4th March with Cornish pasties, salads and puddings galore, so why not come along? This the third year the lunch has been organised by the congregation of Jacobstow church and it is getting more popular every year. Please book by ringing Ray Fox 230 153 or Frankie Franklyn 230 350 before February 27th.

Afternoon Concert March 19th 4pm

The church will be the venue for an afternoon concert by the Ladies Choir led by Audrey Bennett our church organist. The ladies sing a wide variety of music so there should be something for everyone to enjoy and they don't mind if you join in a bit! There will be a tea to follow in the Parish Hall.

Bob's Gardening Spot

You should be liming your beds now if you are going to grow anything from the cabbage family. Now is the time to buy and chit your early potatoes and to sow your early peas and shallots. Also, now's the time to prune your autumn fruiting raspberries.

If you are planning to plant any bare rooted trees or shrubs, now's the time to do it. Top dress any pot grown shrubs; do this by taking out the top 2 inches of old compost and re-top with lovely fresh compost and a slow release feed. March is the ideal time to plant or divide Perennials. Lift the clumps with a fork and break them apart, then replant.

By now your potatoes should be producing nice sprouting growth which is planted facing up to the surface. Now, you can also plant onion sets about 4 inches apart to give the space to grow nice wide onions - watch out for pigeons pulling them up!!

Cornwall Council Recycling - Cornwall Council advised that from March 2017 Plastic pots, Tubs and Trays etc. will be recyclable.

CANWORTHY BOOK CLUB

Black Narcissus by Rumer Godden

A Himalayan palace, once a harem is bestowed on an order of nuns. The story tells of their existence in the palace and their hopes of rebuilding it and how the history of the palace intervenes,

We considered the book well written but somewhat dated as it was originally written in 1939. Although some of us enjoyed this book, others were bored by a lack of plot. We felt that the nuns lacked spirituality.

Part of their problem could have been altitude sickness as they were living very high up in the Himalayas.

November locally produced little out of the ordinary, Storm Angus kept well to the east of our area, with the trailing NW edge producing significant rainfall from the 19th to 22nd. The first severe frost for quite a few years was observed here on the 30th overnight, with -5.5°C recorded an hour before sunrise. Not particular was also the rain collected, 4.37" for the month, about or perhaps a little on the low side of average.

Of interest was a late season hurricane in the Caribbean, "Otto" was the most Southern to make landfall in Central American history, and this was observed on the 24th.

December was unusual in being fairly dry, only 1.54" being collected at Canworthy Water. Persistent high pressure reaching 1045 MB on the 27th. Such persistence is not unusual but it is when it affects the UK to the degree which it certainly has since September.

Total rain fall for the year was 39.21", the second lowest amount collected locally since 2010. This is an excellent example of how variable rainfall can be in the South-West, to the South and East of Bodmin Moor the amounts were considerably more. Storm Angus produced 8" in 48 hours in particular around the catchment area to the North of Exeter

Gordon Harris 1938-2016

The funeral service for William Gordon Harris took place at Bodmin Crematorium, on December 30th followed by a memorial service at Jacobstow Parish Church. Donations were given in lieu of flowers for the leukaemia fund at Treliske and amounted to £1155. Gordon was born on 11th January, 1938, at East Panson, St Giles in the Heath, to John and Lorna Harris. He was the youngest of three children, following Ronald his older brother and Janet, his sister. The family attended St Giles Methodist Church and Sunday School. Gordon was brought up on the farm where he enjoyed country pursuits with his dad. He had his own pony, Laddy, which he would ride everywhere including through the family farm house (a story he loved to tell!). He attended St Giles Primary School and Holsworthy School. Following the death of his dad when Gordon was just 11, two years later the family moved to Ash Farm, Jacobstow. He then attended Jacobstow Primary School for a short while, riding Laddy there and back. Gordon finished school at the age of 14 and followed in his father's footsteps, and continued to work the family farm. He was in charge of the pigs, buying, rearing and selling for several years. He was involved in many community projects including a drama club, he was on the Parish Hall Committee and helped run the local youth club. He was also a member of Bude Sea Anglers and rang the bells at Jacobstow Church.

He married Elizabeth Audrey Cowling in 1958. They had two children, Marina Elizabeth (aka Min) born the same year, followed by Eric William in 1962. When the marriage came to an end, Gordon's mum helped with the children until Sabina Heal (affectionately named Aunty by the children) came to the farm as housekeeper. On 29th of March, 1974, Gordon married Linda Joyce Chidley and two years later moved to Trelay Bungalow, St Gennys, and worked for his brother-in-law, Jim Cory, on the neighbouring farm.

His first grandchild, Rebecca, was born December 1983 followed by Gordon and Lin's only child, Rachel Lorna, on 5th of January, 1984. More grandchildren, Claire, Charlie, Kieran and Logan and five great grandchildren followed over the years to come.

When he finished working for Jim he went on to work for many other farmers including Trevor Shute, Trevor Biscombe, Michael Hicks, Tony Alexander and Elizabeth Heard. Gordon finished his working life at the age of 59 when he was diagnosed with leukaemia. The next six months brought many spells in Treliske Hospital receiving chemotherapy. Gordon as always wasn't going to give in and fought bravely to overcome the disease.

This gave him the desire to give something back and he became a keen fundraiser and with his family went on to have many BBQs, bingos, whist drives and other events in aid of not just Leukaemia but also the air ambulance, Jacobstow Church, Jacobstow School and Liberal Democrats with which he visited the new European Parliament in Strasburg. He also helped out yearly with the pensioners' dinner at Jacobstow. Unfortunately bad things have a habit of returning and he was diagnosed again with cancer of the urethra in 2015 and was told he would have little time left. In his usual style he fought valiantly against it and went on to have another good year with family and friends. He was himself to the very last. He was taken ill in December and sadly passed on the 13th peacefully in his sleep at Stratton Hospital surrounded by his family. The family are very grateful for the wonderful care he had there. He was very proud of all of his family including his sons-in-law Andy and Jamie and daughter-in-law, Jacqui, and will be missed by all. He will be remembered for his wit as well as his caring and loving nature.

Jacobstow Church Carol Concert

Another enjoyable evening was had just before Christmas, with lots of traditional carols being sung accompanied by St Gennys Brass Band, and readings from people involved with various groups and organisations in the village. This was followed by a hearty supper in the village hall, which gave everyone an opportunity to mingle and exchange good wishes for the coming festivities.

JACOBSTOW AMBLERS

Next walks: Friday 3rd Feb and Friday 3rd March 10am Parish Hall.

We met at Canceleave on Friday 6th January and despite Cornish drizzle it wasn't too cold or windy and the walk was well attended, including Buster the dog who sang all the way in the car with anticipation, unlike the previous one which due to a mix of circumstances was just Mary and one other person! We walked along a very muddy coast path down to Millook where Mick had kindly delivered Mary's home made mince pies and mulled wine as well as a non-alcoholic version for those who were on dry January or simply wanted to get through the walk still on their feet! The mince pies were delicious, thank you Mary! There was a really festive atmosphere and we continued our walk crossing to the wide path and climbing up through Lundy woods. Despite the steep descent, the ascent was gradual and helped by beautiful scenery and genial company. All too soon we had come full circle and arrived back at Canceleave. Please note our walk day has changed to Fridays.

How to Make a Love Potion

Shrouded in mystery and steeped in legend, love potions have been scattered throughout human history for centuries. A potion can not only improve your relationship and lift your mood but it's been shown to lower blood pressure, boost immunity, improve heart health, and lead you to a longer life. So the next time you find yourself lacking in the passion department, brew up this love potion and get ready for a merry time!

You will need...

- 2 teaspoons of dried jasmine flowers
- 1 tablespoon of dried rose petals
- Vanilla pod split, or ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1-2 cinnamon sticks
- 1 cup of fresh water
- A pot or sauce pan
- A strainer

Directions

Pour 1 cup of fresh water into a saucepan. You can add more or less, with the former resulting in a stronger 'potion' and the latter a weaker tasting one. Add to the water 2 teaspoons of dried jasmine flowers, 1 tablespoon of dried rose petals, a vanilla pod split lengthwise or ¼ teaspoon of vanilla extract, and 1-2 cinnamon sticks. Give the mixture a little stir to incorporate everything, and then simmer for 3-5 minutes.

Remove from heat and strain immediately. Allow this to cool and then bottle it. Add sparkling water and serve chilled on a hot day, or pour into mugs and reheat, sipping slowly. You can also use it fresh. In the fridge it will keep for a week in tightly lidded container.

Before anyone asks, clearly you're supposed to put all the ingredients in order into a pot and stir them on the last three lines. With a SILVER spoon. Then you have the Love Potion ready to use. Or sell. Or put into the punch bowl at the election committee's meeting ...

Book Club Visit to Kernow Chocolate

It was totally Marion McDonald,s fault, and that is what I will use in my defence! Marion works in the gift shop at Lanhydrock, and she brought some Kernow chocolate to one of our meetings.. sublimely yummy, c'ant even begin to tell you how nice it was. Anyway, she then tells us "You can visit the factory and see it being made". That was the Book Club Christmas shindig taken care of then.

The factory is at St Eval, about a half hour drive, unless you get lost like I did, but its lovely countryside, so it doesn't matter. You enter via the gift shop (good plan!), And then make your way to the coffee shop where one wall is entirely glass and you can see all the production line; all I saw was massive amounts of chocolate being poured, moulded and tempered. A lovely hot chocolate later, you just get a huge mug of hot milk and a jug of melted chocolate to pour in, we hit the gift shop. All in all, well worth a visit, not a whole day out, maybe just pop in on your way to Padstein.

The Christmas Lunch was once again delicious and enjoyable. We were entertained by Jacobstow Children with music and carols.

Very many thanks to all the organisers and helpers.

On SATURDAY 7 January

you may have heard St James's bells ringing for a while ... It was a full peel, lasting two hours and forty-eight minutes!

The Ringers came from all over, 2 from Milton, Oxon, 1 from Hemelhemstead, 1 from Bovey Tracey and 1 from Tiverton St Peter.

CHRISTMAS BABY

On Christmas Day I received the best Christmas present ever. I became a grandmother. My daughter Sarah who lives in Bristol was due to have a baby on Christmas Eve so my husband Jon and I made no plans for Christmas and our son was staying with his girlfriend in Newcastle. On Christmas Eve Jon and I went to the crib service and I found myself blubbing and unable to sing during "Away in a Manger" being so overcome with emotions and thinking about my daughter. At seven o'clock on Christmas morning Sarah rang to say she was in labour but had been sent home as it could take a while. She asked us not to drive up to Bristol immediately as it could be ages. Jon and I decided to put the turkey in our neighbour's chest freezer and then we waited... and waited. We didn't feel like opening presents, there was no dinner to prepare (in Jon's words "It will just be food not Christmas Dinner") and we both felt excited but also restless and anxious. Then at one o'clock, Sarah's boyfriend Tom rang and said "Get you skates on, we're in the delivery room." We jumped in the car and zoomed to Bristol, the roads being almost empty. On arrival at the hospital some two hours later, the midwife said we could go in to the delivery room where we were greeted by the sight of our daughter cradling a tiny baby in her arms. "You've got a baby!" were my first words (bit obvious) and then hugs all round to proud parents and grandparents. We stayed a short while and then drove home again promising to come up the day after Boxing Day where we would visit again, this time meeting up with Sarah's brother (now a proud uncle) and his girlfriend, which we did! On Boxing Day Jon and I cooked the turkey, drank champagne and celebrated Christmas a day late but very happy and feeling blessed. Our grandson is called Ethan.
